

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Method and system for operating a team configuration in an arrangement formed of a number of telecommunications devices, with the telecommunications devices communicating with one another with equal priority, wherein a real or an 5 imaginary instance exists, in addition to the process instances provided for normal telecommunications operation, for each subscriber in each telecommunications device.